PARIS, Sept. 9.—If the Germans are expecting to be allowed a respite from the attack either during the autumn or through the winter they are counting without their host, says Premier Clemenceau's newspaper L'Homme Libre, in commenting on the military situation.

They made their great trial last spring to outstep the United States, it points out, but lost the race to a competitor who was too fast for them.

Nevertheless, the newspaper expects a certain slowing up of the fighting because of the necessity of bringing forward the necessary infantry support to front new positions which the Germans are occupying and which they are expected to defend stubbornly.

for a period of more than six weeks.

In connection with the probable further course of the fighting in the immediate future, the Echo de Paris points out that the Allied commander-in-chief is of the type to gamble with fortune and that he is likely

The Belgian King and Queen, who were entertained the Premier at luncheon at the Hotel de Crillon, arrived in Brussels on Saturday morning. The Premier then visited the devastated regions of Kemmel, from Lille to Nueve Eglise, recently conquered by the British and their allies. From a column of white smoke the Premier watched the operations against Armentieres, which is burning.

ENEMY AT BAY.
(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A P.)
LONDON, Sept. 9.—The battle on the western front is entering a new phase. The enemy at last is making headway, and just short of the Hindenburg line.

The Germans are doubling their rear guards and seeking by counterattacks to slow up, if they cannot stop outright, the encroaching tide of the Allies.

The French are in a desperate position in vain, notwithstanding the new measures adopted, in checking the advance of the French and the British, for both pushed forward

Gen. Humbert's center is at the foot of La Perle and Gen. Mangin's left is beginning to creep around the St. Gobain forest by the west. His high right flank is being attacked by the Germans, and he ought to cling to the Alsace front. Some of such attacks are probable, but Gen. Mangin will know how to meet them. He has a fine staff, and a more serious effort is not likely to be made.

Gen. Ludendorff is working for the final blow, but he must have a sort out his disorganised divisions and try to whip up some sort of a

Business Page: Money, Stocks, Bonds—Grain—Mines—Financial Market Abroad

VALUES REMAIN, THOUGH PRICES MAY FLUCTUATE.

Don't Worry.

There appear to be sound, basic reasons for the firmness established and maintained by the leading industrial, oil and mining stocks. The business of the world must go on, and after the war there is certain to be even a greater demand for the staple necessities and luxuries than existed before or during the early days of the conflict.

Let us consider the case of gold. "As good as gold" is an axiom. It is the top notch of commercial perfection. It is the basis upon which all business is transacted. It is the world's medium of exchange. Gold is as staple as wheat, yet gold has been selling upon a declining scale, and stock in gold mines—real gold mines with gold in 'em—has been depreciated formerly north of $100 an ounce, now $12. Must be something wrong.

The answer is increased cost of production. The same answer upon which so many individuals, firms and corporations have staked their business lives during the past few months. Gold is not super, and, although some of us build it into our altars and fall down and worship, the fact remains that given a fixed market price and a rising cost of production, mining is bound to stop just as soon as the point is reached where the commodity can no longer be sold at a profit.

As in any other business, it is the little fellow, in this case, the small mine, which is first to feel the pinch. The big producer with his greater margin, but sooner or later he, too, is bound to succumb to the inevitable.

Gold is in the ground. This government and other governments must have it. Ergo, the government as sound.

CROP REPORT CAUSES SHARP PRICE BREAK.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Stocks broke almost violently in the latter part of today's session, the early and intermediate periods having been characterized by unusual dullness and unimportant price changes.

The decline, which extended from two to four points, among the more popular speculative favorites, lacked explanation, although the setback was coincident with the publication of the crop report as of September.

As a matter of fact, the report was far from adverse, except as it related to the outlook for corn, which indicated further severe deterioration over the showing of the previous month.

The market's barometer, United States Steel, was subjected to the heaviest selling at an extreme decline of 3 1/2 points, for corn which was regained. Other industrials and high-grade rails yielded easily to the closing bringing a few feeble rallies. Sales amounted to $28,000 shares.

International bonds, notably French municipals, were firm, but Liberty 3 1/2's and other domestic issues yielded variably. Total sales, $4,771,000.

COUNTING VOTES HERCULEAN JOB.

Primary Election Figures not Yet Tabulated.

Force of Eighty Clerks Works Over Holidays.

Complicated Laws Here are Cause of Delay.

By working Sunday and yesterday, both clerks canvassing the returns of the primary election will complete the job late tonight. It was stated by Supervisor Dodge yesterday. He said that the returns had been nearly all tabulated, but that no estimates of figures are obtainable. The tabulations must be completed by Thursday night, under the law, and the results then sent to the Secretary of State by the Board of Supervisors.

By Clark L. R. Paxton, a veteran at the work, said that the tabulation of this primary election was the most complicated task he has ever performed. Probably it is the largest-sized job of its kind undertaken in any State, not excepting the big eastern centers. More votes were cast in the big cities east, but the complicated election laws here and the greater number of candidates made the task herculean.

One source of trouble was the provision of the law allowing names to be written on the tickets. Practically two-thirds of the time of the tabulators was taken up by tabulating these written-in names. The law requires a separate tabulation for each way names are written.

Apparently, there was only a 30 per cent. vote cast, which, however, is not official, and the exact percentage will not be made known until the official returns are completed.

TO ANNUL MARRIAGE.

Dismissed Husband Brings Second Suit Against Wife Who Left Him.

Frank Hernandez filed his second annulment suit yesterday, alleging that his bride, Romana Hernandez, had been married to him fraudulently and with intent to deceive him. The first suit was dismissed. Hernandez said his bride represented that she was of good moral character and was over 18 years of age. He alleged that she was not 18 until five months after the marriage, on January 4 last.

Mrs. Hernandez left her husband five days after the marriage, he declared, going to San Diego with another man. She was arrested in that city and returned to the home of the Good Shepherd, from which she was released by her father.

In his complaint that his wife is now in Venice. The court committee called for her before the trial in the Home of the Good Shepherd until she is 21 years old.
